Manual tester in FPT Corporation
Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam

Summary

I am an experienced professional with over a decade of expertise in the gaming and software testing industry. I have worked extensively as a manual tester, ensuring the quality and functionality of games and applications on various platforms, including Web, iOS, and Android. My background includes roles such as Game Tester, Senior Game Tester, and QA Leader at Gameloft, where I managed teams, trained junior testers, and collaborated closely with developers and producers to deliver high-quality products.

In addition to my testing experience, I have transitioned into the AI field, focusing on AI labeling and data collection. Over the past 1.5 years, I have focused on AI labeling and data collection, participating in projects involving sentiment analysis, text-to-image, and image-to-text conversions. Currently pursuing a Master's degree in Information Technology, I am seeking a position as an AI Engineer Fresher to apply my skills in finding and labeling data for AI.
