Summary

I am a DevOps engineer with a diverse skill set that spans across cloud computing platforms like AWS and GCP. My expertise extends to Infrastructure as Code (IaC) tools such as Terraform, Ansible, and AWS CloudFormation, enabling me to efficiently manage and automate infrastructure deployments.

In the realm of containerization, I have been experienced with Docker and Kubernetes, managing the orchestration and scaling of containerized applications.

Additionally, my proficiency in backend development with languages like PHP, TypeScript, and Python empowers me to build robust and efficient backend systems.

My experience extends to the logging and monitoring domain, where I have leveraged AWS CloudWatch, Kibana, and Elastic Search to ensure optimal system performance and troubleshoot issues effectively.
