Dat Nguyen

DevOps Engineer
Can Tho, Vietnam

Summary

I am a software engineer with nearly two years of experience and during this time, I have gained a deep understanding of the Python programming language and deployed applications on AWS. I am highly proficient in Python for web development, data analysis and machine learning. I am also familiar with various Python frameworks such as Flask and FastAPI. Furthermore, I have experience using various database technologies and AWS cloud services. I collaborate closely with UI/UX designers to ensure that the application's interface aligns with the project's goals.
